1 New York city rent stabilization law of nineteen hundred sixty-nine; or 2 subject to stabilization or control under such rent stabilization law, 3 shall be a matter for local determination within each city, town or 4 village. Any such determination shall be made by the local legislative 5 body of such city, town or village on the basis of the supply of housing 6 accommodations within such city, town or village, the condition of such 7 accommodations and the need for regulating and controlling residential 8 rents within such city, town or village.

9 [A] b. For a city having a population of one million or more resi-
10 dents, a declaration of emergency may be made as to any class of housing 11 accommodations if the vacancy rate for the housing accommodations in 12 such class within such municipality is not in excess of five percent and 13 a declaration of emergency may be made as to all housing accommodations
14 if the vacancy rate for the housing accommodations within such munici-
15 pality is not in excess of five percent.

16 [b-] c. For a city having a population of less than one million resi-
17 dents or a town or village, the local legislative body may declare a 18 housing emergency through the process described in paragraph one or two 19 of this subdivision. For such a jurisdiction where a local legislative 20 body has declared a housing emergency pursuant to this act prior to the 21 effective date of this subdivision, the local legislative body may add 22 classes of accommodation as described in paragraph five-b of subdivision
23 a of section five of this act, through the process described in para-
24 graph one or two of this subdivision.

25 (1) The local legislative body may declare a housing emergency after 26 considering publicly available data and holding public hearings. Before 27 declaring such emergency, the local legislative body shall consider 28 publicly available data measuring or estimating factors such as: over-29 all housing supply, vacancy rate for housing accommodations, the avail-
30 ability of affordable and habitable housing accommodations, rent burdens 31 for tenants or other measures of housing affordability, the local or 32 regional homelessness rate, and the need for regulating rents within 33 such city, town or village.

34 (2) The local legislative body may declare an emergency as to any 35 class of housing accommodations if the vacancy rate for such housing
36 accommodations in such class within such municipality is not in excess 37 of five percent and a declaration of emergency may be made as to all 38 housing accommodations if the vacancy rate for the housing accommo-
39 dations within such municipality is not in excess of five percent.

40 (i) A municipality or a designee, as part of a study to determine its 41 vacancy rate, owners, or their agent, of housing accommodations in the 42 class of housing accommodations determined, shall provide the most 43 recent records of rent rolls and, if available, records for the preced-
44 ing thirty-six months. Such records shall include the tenant's relevant 45 information relating to finding the vacancy rate of such municipality 46 including but not limited to the name, address, and amount paid or 47 charged on a weekly, monthly, or annual basis for each occupied housing 48 accommodation and which housing accommodations are vacant at the time of 49 the survey and available for rent. Such records shall also include any 50 housing accommodations that are vacant and not available for rent and 51 provide the reason why such unit is not available for rent.

52 (ii) A municipality may impose a civil penalty or fee of up to five 53 hundred dollars on an owner or their agent if such owner or their agent 54 refuses to participate in such vacancy survey and cooperate with such 55 municipality or a designee in such vacancy survey, or submits knowingly 56 and intentionally false vacancy information.

1 (iii) A nonrespondent owner shall be deemed to have zero vacancies.

2 (iv) Identifying data or information shall be kept confidential and 3 shall not be shared, traded, given, or sold to any other entity for any 4 purpose outside of such vacancy study.

5 d. A city of under one million residents or a town or village may add 6 classes of accommodation to regulation under this act in buildings
7 containing fewer than six but not fewer than four units.

8 e. The local governing body of a city, town or village having declared 9 an emergency pursuant to subdivision a, b, or c of this section may at 10 any time, on the basis of the supply of housing accommodations within 11 such city, town or village, the condition of such accommodations and the 12 need for continued regulation and control of residential rents within 13 such municipality, declare that the emergency is either wholly or 14 partially abated or that the regulation of rents pursuant to this act
15 does not serve to abate such emergency and thereby remove one or more
16 classes of accommodations from regulation under this act. [The emergency 17 must be declared at an end once the vacancy rate described in subdivi-
18 sion a of this section exceeds five percent.

19 ~~c.]~~ f. No resolution declaring the existence or end of an emergency, 20 as authorized by [subdivisions] subdivision a [and], b or c of this 21 section, may be adopted except after public hearing held on not less 22 than ten days public notice, as the local legislative body may reason-23 ably provide.

24 ~~[d. When requested by a municipality or a designee, as a part of a~~
25 ~~study to determine its vacancy rate, owners, or their agent, of housing~~ 26 ~~accommodations in the class of housing accommodations determined, shall~~ 27 ~~provide the most recent records of rent rolls and, if available, records~~
28 ~~for the preceding thirty six months. Such records shall include the~~

34 ~~shall also include any housing accommodations that are vacant and not~~ 35 ~~available for rent and provide the reason why such unit is not available~~
36 ~~for rent.~~

37 ~~e. A municipality may impose a civil penalty or fee of up to five~~ 38 ~~hundred dollars on an owner or their agent if the owner or their agent~~
